

Summer Journalism Program 2017

August 21-25, 2017

www.yaledailynews.com/sjp

SJP 2017

DATES

Monday, August 21 through Friday, August 25, 2017.

TIMES

10 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily.

COST

The program is free for all participants. Students must provide their own lunches and transportation to and from campus.

HOUSING

We are unable to provide housing in New Haven. Students are expected to return home at the conclusion of each day's session.

PAST HIGHLIGHTS

- Guest lecture by Brian Ross, an investigative correspondent for ABC News.
- Panels from recent college graduates now working for major US publications
- SJP coverage of the New Haven Open

Send your applications and any questions to:
sjp@yaledailynews.com

Frequently Asked Questions

What is the Summer Journalism Program?

SJP is an intensive, one-week program in journalism for high school students. The program is completely free and is run entirely by Yale undergraduates, who are also staff members of the Yale Daily News. SJP is based at the Yale Daily News building on the campus of Yale.

What do SJP participants do?

Students participate in workshops introducing them to the fundamentals of journalism, attend lectures by guest speakers from major news outlets such as the New York Times, the Huffington Post and ABC News, and receive mentorship from staff of the Yale Daily News. Throughout the week, they gain hands-on experience by pitching, writing their own stories and taking photographs. At the end of the week, they produce an issue of the Yale Daily News.

Who can apply?

The program is designed for to Connecticut high school students — Connecticut residents and students who attend Connecticut boarding schools — with an interest in journalism. The program is completely free and we encourage students with all levels of experience to apply.

How can I apply?

Applications are available at www.yaledailynews.com/sjp. Applications must be submitted by email by May 10, 2017.

A TYPICAL DAY at SJP

10 A.M.

Students arrive and begin workshops focusing on various journalism skills with SJP staff.

NOON

Lunch in New Haven.

1 P.M.

Hear from a guest speaker on their experience working for one of the country's top news outlets.

2 P.M.

Students break into teams to go out into different parts of New Haven, looking for stories. Teams will be guided by SJP staff.

3 P.M.

The teams regroup to put together a story based on interviews in New Haven.

4 P.M.

Students leave.